How to access the library materials?

Library Homepage: From the DINFOS homepage <http://www.dinfos.dma.mil> click on Resources in the top right.

From this page you will find links to:

- our catalog,
- online databases,
- media resources,
- general/references sites,
- DOD resources,
- additional external links, and
- Professional Military Reading Lists

How do I check out materials?

Everyone is automatically added to our patron records upon in-processing. No library card is needed.

How do I find Databases?

The links to the databases are on the Library's home page, under "Databases". Access is from any workstation connected to the internet in DINFOS and the Detachments. If you need access to these databases from home or billeting, see library staff for remote access information. The databases to which we subscribe can be invaluable resources for locating information in journals, magazines, and newspapers. Most of the articles are available full-text, which can be printed, e-mailed, or downloaded.

If you need help in using the databases, library staff will gladly provide assistance.
